Here are Williamson's practical tips for starting your career journey. The most important thing, he advises, is to focus on your direction, not your destination. <https://www.uac.edu.au/media-centre/news/career-mapping-where-to-after-school>

University of Sydney ARTiculate - Modern History: Wartime Diplomacy and China's Status as a Great Power

31 August

This webinar will discuss China's diplomatic strategies during its war of resistance against Japan and World War II. It will consider shifting relationships with great powers such as the Soviet Union and the United States, and the way that these relationships were complicated by China's own social divisions and the Guomindang's rivalry with the CCP. Although often disappointed with the support it received from abroad, China was also surprisingly successful in inserting itself into international negotiations during WWII. Ultimately, it will be interested here in how China emerged from the war as itself one of the world's "powers", and as such obtained a seat among the permanent members of the newly formed UN Security Council.
